

Council considers future use of CNR station here

At their May 3 meeting council heard a letter from the CNR asking for confirmation that there is no municipal objection to their proposal to retire the railway station at St. Albert without replacement. The station is no longer required by CNR for passenger, freight or express traffic.

Coun. de Bruijn asked if the matter had been referred to the new transportation committee. The CNR right-of-way may be as good a route as any to move large numbers down town, he said. "And we could suggest that the station might serve as an inter-urban station for rapid station," observed the mayor.

Kambouroff felt the building was not adequate for this purpose and Hudson asked "How old is it and would it be of any value to the new museum?" The museum people are looking for something," said the mayor. "It would have to be moved" said de Bruijn "and was probably built in 1911-16. Before giving carte blanche to the CNR, he added, we should ask what disposition they propose for the building. Also will they consider it as a future rapid transit terminal area, and will they donate the excess land around. Coun. de Bruijn's motion that their questions be answered first, carried unanimously.

Recommendations dealing with a proposed sale of two lots in block 5 on Perron street, were discussed. Secretary O'Connell advised that Mr. Achtem of Cromwell Investments Ltd. had told him that day that he was still working on a development plan for the property in question.

"He has a simple solution" said Coun. Russell - "pay the back taxes." "First we should be satisfied that Mr. Achtem has authority to pay them" said Coun. Kambouroff, "as Cromwell Investments is now defunct." The property in question had been taken over under tax recovery from Cromwell, the former owners.

Mr. O'Connell felt that the town should entertain no offers excepting from the former owners, until all titles are free and clear. Committee recommendation that the proposed purchaser be informed of the legal implications, of the price at $1.50 per square foot, and that the sale is subject to a suitable development plan, was approved. A second resolution that Mr. Achtem be advised that the two lots are to be sold was also approved unanimously. Servicing costs will be the responsibility of the purchaser.

Approval was given a resolution calling for a special committee meeting on May 6 in order to inform councillors on the negotiations going forward on the Grandin Park Public Reserve. White and Kambouroff were opposed. Mr. Morris, who was in the gallery, asked to have this resolution (which was approved by number) read and this was done.

Well-known artists - varied instruments join choir for concert

As a culmination to their year's work, the junior and senior choirs of St. Albert United Church will present "Altogether Joyfully Sing" this Sunday evening, May 16 at 8 p.m. in the church.

The program will range from the classical repertoire of Haydn and Mozart to three Negro Spirituals, delightfully arranged for mixed chorus. Many of the numbers to be heard have been written in the past 10 years, and include accompaniment by various instruments besides the "traditional organ."

Mr. Andrew Bergman, a noted teacher of flute, and piccolo player with the Edmonton Symphony orchestra will accompany two of the anthems with soprano recorder.

The French horn, played by John Hermans, a music director of St. Albert's Roman Catholic parish and former principal hornist with the Edmonton Symphony, will be the solo instrument

Sod turned for Pentecostal Church

Members of the congregation, visiting clergy and invited guests gathered at the Ball Avenue site Monday evening for the ground breaking service for Elim Pentecostal Chapel.

The Pentecostal church came to St. Albert in 1960, when services were held at the Club Mocambo. The Reverend Harry Onishenko took over the leadership in 1960 and almost immediately began working towards the building of a church in this community.

Taking part in the ceremony were Rev. K. Agrey, pastor of the St. Albert church, Rev. R. J. White, presbyter, A. Schalm, chairman of the board, K. McAmmond, building committee, Rev. C. Yates, district superintendent, Rev. I. Roset, Edmonton Gospel Centre, Rev. M. Koutney, Kensington church, Rev. B. Onishenko and Mayor R. M. Gibbon, who brought greetings from the town.

ing will perform and Beverly Smith, of Edmonton, is featured vocalist for the evening.

Shoppers Park makes major contribution

The St. Albert and District arena fund received a major boost last Saturday with the presentation of a cheque for $2,500.00.

Included in this amount is a $1,000 donation from Leon Kryger, the new owner of Grandin Shoppers Park, an equal sum from Maurice Tougas, past owner of the shoppers park and a $500 contribution from the merchants and professional people of the shoppers park.

The owner and tenants of the shoppers park had previously donated $2,000 bringing the grand total of their contribution to $4,500.

St. Albert United Church junior and senior choirs will present "Altogether Joyfully Sing," Sunday, May 16 at the church, 8 p.m. Members of the junior choir taking part in Sunday's program are: Jill de Mulder, Nancy Thibert, Shauna Hite, Stephen Leggett, David Maandag, Tom White, Pamela Evans, Laura Crerar, Marilyn Musto, Cynthia Roman, Bryan Kataris, Lori Foreand, Wendy Evans, Lori White, Kathy Hubbard, Janice Scammell, Martha Sandomirsky and Judy Wellman. Not in the photograph are: Scott Chyzowski, Lori Kataris, Laura Nesbitt, Barbara Sugg and Shelley White.

Wins Bingo

Mary Bondarevich, of RR #8, Edmonton, has won the blackout in the Hiwinders club newspaper bingo. She wins $500.

Mrs. Bondarevich is a "semi-regular" bingo player, but has never won a big prize before. How will she spend the money? "Oh, I don't know yet, I still can't believe I've really won," she said.

A member of the Sturgeon General Hospital auxiliary, Mrs. Bondarevich looks after the gift shop at the hospital and that is where she bought her bingo card.

Peter Zuidema, president of Grandin Shoppers' Park (centre) presents a cheque for $2,500 to a smiling John de Bruijn, chairman of the Arena Board while Mayor Gibbon looks on at left.

"Would you mind repeating that part between Dear Sir and Yours Truly?"

To The Editor . .

It is indeed unfortunate that our so-called "participatory democracy" is so ineffective. My specific example is Bill 67 respecting Wilderness Areas, recently passed in the Alberta Legislature.

When introduced, Bill 67 contained several clauses which caused extreme consternation throughout the public; the major problem centering around a stated maximum size for designated wilderness areas. The Bill was introduced by a cabinet minister, obviously reflecting the Cabinet's motives for public land use.

The public concern for Bill 67 was conveyed to the elected representatives. I am personally aware of various petitions, hundreds of letters, telegrams, phone calls, etc. Several elected representatives commonly known as "Back-benchers" responded, expressing interest in their constituents' opinions, even discussing proposed amendments.

However, when brought to the committee stage, Bill 67 was unable to generate discussion on the floor of the Legislature, other than a valiant attempt by the badly outnumbered official opposition. All the keen "back-benchers" had been effectively silenced by the cabinet, thereby displaying their inability to represent the people. I am certain that these political decision makers are not able to produce evidence of public support for Bill 67 in the exact format as presented.

Why then should public criticism of the Bill be ignored?

There is something wrong with a political system which allows the people a say in their own affairs only at the polls. This can only be once every four or five years, and then people's judgments are colored by rosy election promises. I am told that the system could be worse, but that is a weak argument. Let us think about how it might be better!

Sincerely yours,
Floyd Stromstedt,

St. Albert students read poetry

Listen to the kids

On April 19, Radio Station CKUA carried a unique program of children's poetry subtitled "Listen to the Kids." A number of girls and boys from Sir George Simpson Junior High and Robert Rundle Elementary schools did personal readings of their own poetry, as well as poetry of children from other parts of the world, including U.S.A., Australia and New Zealand. A few of their poems are given here:

THE WIND

The Wind may be blue and black
It might have eyes that glow
Nobody will ever know
The wind has never been seen
But when the leaves are so high in the tree
You know where the wind has been.

by Michael Bridges (Grade 4 - 9 yrs old)

BIRDS

Some birds fly South in fall,
Their instinct call tells them to go,
Their food supply gets low.
They come back in spring and start to sing,
And on the eggs she rests,
Pretty soon the eggs hatch,
Then the babies at the worms snatch.

by Dick VanEms (Grade 4 - 9 yrs old)

SPRING IS

Spring is a time when the world is new,
The water is cool, the sky is blue,
Spring is a time when the world is free,
Just as free as a bumblebee.
Spring is a time for lots of fun,
Spring is a time for bathing in the sun,
Spring is time for beauty and fun,
Spring is lovely as a nice yummy bun,
Spring is very very cool,
Spring is good to every foot.

by Michael Carnahan (Grade 4 - 9 yrs old)

HAIKU POETRY

WINTER

The winter winds blow
The fox is very hungry
And the rabbits are still.

by Nancy Thibert (Grade 4 - 9 yrs old)

Rundle shone Friday evening

For their opening number, Robert Rundle Glee Club sang "Rundle will shine tonight," . . . and shine they did.

The Glee Club, comprised of approximately 80 grade three students, presented a delightful program entitled "Glee Club Fun in '71" for a large audience last Friday evening.

Under the direction of Hilda McPetridge and accompanied on the piano by Betty Hainsworth, the youngsters sang songs from many lands. There were hiking songs, lullabies, "The Sandman," which was very sweetly done, clapping songs, folk songs and three spirituals, enthusiastically received by the audience and obviously done with great joy by the young singers.

There were a number of solo dances, songs, recitations and a piano solo by several youngsters.

In his closing remarks, Frank Carnahan, principal of Robert Rundle school, mentioned that he had attended many of the Wednesday noon glee club sessions during the past months and noted that his favorite song, "Peppermint Twist" was not on the evening's program. This oversight was quickly remedied as the exuberant youngsters, Mr. Carnahan and Mrs. McPetridge did a groovy version of this favorite to the delight of the audience.

At the conclusion of the program the school presented Mrs. McPetridge with a bouquet of flowers.

JOKE

Whether the school principal was speaking from experience or had a slip of the tongue was debatable when he introduced the faculty at the Home and School meeting like this: "These are the teachers your children will educate next year."

the Gazette REFLECTS

There is a new act about to be passed by the Social Credit government in Alberta with very serious implications for the rights and freedoms of every citizen of this province.

The proposed Police Act under Bill 70 would give the attorney-general the power to appoint special constables. To define their duties and offices and their territorial jurisdiction. The government may establish a police force to be known as the Alberta Provincial Police, which shall be under the control of the attorney-general.

Mr. Gerhart as attorney-general would also be empowered to appoint a director of the force responsible to himself.

A provincial police commission would be established by the Act. The government would appoint three persons to serve on it.

The next step to be taken under this repressive bill, is to give the government-appointed police commission powers over the municipal boards of police commissioners.

The act takes a further step to direct power into the hands of the attorney-general. This powerful minister will appoint the majority of members on municipal police boards. On a three-man board he will appoint two, and on a five-man board he will appoint three.

A central statistical information centre may be established by the government appointed commission.

When asked in the Legislature if there would be public hearing on Bill 70, Premier Strom said none had been planned. Yet the Calgary Police Commission has protested this act, the City of Edmonton protested it. Rev. E. M. Checkland of the First Baptist Church, Edmonton has publicly spoken out against it. The conservative MLA's have attempted to have it amended without success.

What can be the justification of concentrating so much power over policing in the hands of the government, and in particular the attorney-general?

Haven't we yet learned what can happen when such power is mis-used. Haven't we learned that the common people have no guarantee whatsoever that such power won't ever be mis-used.

Every Albertan should register his protest. There are no public hearings planned, but there is an election coming. Every Albertan can register his protest in the most effective of all ways. He can go to the polls and defeat a government that would draft such a Police Act.

St. Albert good to retarded kids

Both the people who donated and the workers who conducted the blitz in support of the Winifred Stewart School for Retarded Children, did a terrific job last week.

St. Albert has come up $1,346.45 to date and there are more contributions to come. Word from the blitz office headquarters in Edmonton is that $5,000 is already in and the office is hopeful that the objective of $50,000 will be reached. The funds will be used for the operation and expansion of the Stewart school, who have started a new building fund, so that the existing facilities are fully inadequate. No monies are spent on administration of the drive, all services and efforts are donated. There are 387 children in the school and 133 at the industrial training centre, who are transported by 20 buses daily.

Businesses and residents may send donations to the Winifred Stewart school, and will be issued tax-deductible receipts.

Living high off the hog!

USING ELECTRICITY TO INCREASE YOUR PROFIT is today's brightest idea! Electricity reduces costs in materials handling, labor, and feed processing, and produces environmental controls that encourage better production. Heat is important, and maintaining the ideal temperature in your barn is easy. Floor heating cable and infra-red heaters mean controlled heat where you want it. Mechanical feeders triggered by time switches cut labor costs; manure disposal working on a liquid manure pump system also saves time and money — and solves an age-old cleaning problem! Ventilation, lighting and mechanized materials handling — all running smoothly on electricity — can cut your production costs — and get you living "high off the hog!" Saints open Season

St. Albert Willowbrook Saints will open their 1971 baseball season at home next Tuesday, May 18, when they will host the Burns Shamrocks, who were one of the best senior teams in Alberta last year.

The Saints will again be sponsored by Rudy Scheibelhofer, well known St. Albert sportsman and president of Willowbrook Homes. Ed Howorko will take over the coaching duties from Bob Mulloy, who moved back to the States last fall. Howorko is no stranger to the team having played centre field last year. His assistant will be Arnold (Beetle) Bailey who will also play first base. Mr. Scheibelhofer will also manage the team and capable Rene Pouliot will again handle the equipment manager's duties.

The infield will have a couple of new faces with Henry Hodgson and Herb Sewers at short and Larry Wolbeck at second. Hodgson is back from a year off and has a very strong bat. Sewers played for the Shamrocks' last year. Wolbeck was with the team last year but missed a number of games.

Chester Cunningham has again beat out all challengers for third base. He is appointed to turn in one of the best batting performances in the league. Rick Pugliese and Donald Hodgson have been sharing behind the plate duties with Hodgson a newcomer.

Everybody's favorite, Louie Martineau, will hold down one of the outfield positions as will Hank Reinbold who could also see mound duties. Wayne Biggs and Hank Reinbold are the only pitchers back from last year as Fred Resler has apparently gone to Martin Estate Tigers and rumors have it Bud Pylyuk is playing in Morrisville. Newcomers are Pete Jensen, Lowell Thompson and John Arnot.

The Saints have a 30 game schedule with 12 of these played in St. Albert. Games will be played most Tuesdays and Thursdays. In St. Albert while their away games will be Monday and Wednesday.

Saints hold Sportsman's dinner

St. Albert Willowbrook Saints will hold their first sportsman's dinner and dance this Saturday at the Club Mocombe. Wives are most welcome.

Clare Drake, coach of the newly formed Canadian College hockey team will be one of the featured speakers. Drake's teams in hockey and football from the University of Alberta have fared very well in recent years. Both won Canadian championships in 1967. West Montgomerie will be master of ceremonies with Al McCann, Tiger Goldstick and Mayor Ray Gibson with them at head table. All gentlemen are very good speakers.

Tickets for the event are still available at $10 per couple from Ed Howorko, 599-8881 or Rudy Scheibelhofer at 599-7335.

Church plans pageant

Fur-traders wooed him because he could outshoot the Indians - and despised him because he stubbornly refused to work on Sundays. The whiskey traders swore to kill him because he hated rotgut whiskey worse than he hated sin. Even his own associates placed him on 'probation' they doubted that John McDougall, who had never seen the inside of a theological college, could succeed as a missionary in a land filled with lawlessness, blood lust and tribal hate.

How well the McDougalls succeeded will be the subject of a pageant to be presented by McDougall United Church in Edmonton's Jubilee Auditorium this coming September. The script is by John Patrick Gillespie, the direction by Alice Pollack.

The Edmonton authorities see John McDougall as the central character of a rich drama that has been blurred by the rapid history of the West. "John was almost a century ahead of his time," the writer thinks, "he had a vision we have not really been able to assess until now. Who knows --- for example -- that in the age of religious rivalry, he lent his horse to a Catholic missionary and had to finish some 16 miles of his own journey on blistered and swollen feet? Or that he rode into Fort Whoop-Up -- his hand on his gun every time an Indian war party swooped down?"

An unusual feature of the pageant is that it will "focus upon the present -- at least have meaning for the present -- as well as dramatizing the history of the past," says Rev. H. A. Meadows, minister of McDougall United, whose church is presenting this pageant to mark the centenary of the founding of the first Protestant church in Edmonton.

You know what we mean. You're downstairs at your washer and suddenly it's ring, ring, way upstairs in the kitchen. So you gallop, gallop, gallop!

Well, talk to your husband about it tomorrow morning. Tell him about our colorful, color extension phones in ten fabulous shades, Red, Grey, White, Beige, Yellow, Turquoise, Blue, Ivory, Pink, Green. Tell him you want one to match your decorating plans. (And that you're not going to settle for basic black.)

Frontier Daze Queen Candidates

Connie Craig, 16, attends grade 10 at Vanier school. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Craig of Morinville, she hopes to become a nurse or work with children.

Ann Soper is the 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Soper of Morinville. She is a grade 11 student at Vanier and wants to become a nurse in children's hospital.

Barbara Hittinger, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hittinger of Mearns. She is a grade 10 student at St. Albert High and is working towards a career in nursing.

Camille Remillard, 16, a grade 12 student at Georges P. Vanier. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Remillard of Morinville and plans a career in the business world.

Frontier Daze ...Bigger and better for '71..

The executive committee working on this year's Morinville Frontier Daze is planning a bigger and better show than ever before for the weekend of June 19 and 20.

To make sure that Frontier Daze celebrants won't go hungry, a giant Street Breakfast is planned for Saturday morning.

Then it's off to see the big parade. The committee has already received many entries from marching bands in the area and this year's parade is expected to be the most colorful yet. A costume parade will be featured at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each category.

The committee expects the folks who take in all these activities to be famished and a Texas Bar-B-Q is planned for Saturday, at which 1,000 pounds of meat will be served. In addition foods from many lands are featured during Frontier Daze and everyone should be able to find his favorite meal.

Saturday evening two dances will be held, one for the teens, another for the moms and dads. The Queen of Frontier Daze will be crowned at the ball.

Morinville Memos

By Rose Martel

The Morinville Volunteer Fire brigade responded to three fires during the past week. The first call came from the John Stevens farm where a grass fire caused the loss of a small building. The prompt arrival of the firemen prevented further loss to the buildings and feed lots on the farm yard.

The second fire was a call to the loading platform at the NAR stop in Morinville. According to Fire Chief McDonald, some supporting piles were burned.

On Sunday a house owned by the Morinville Hutterite Brethren Colony on the former Walter Warshawski farm was totally destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Houle accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Lamoureux left on Wednesday, May 5 for a six week tour of Europe. Prior to their departure, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lamoureux of Edmonton entertained at a family "bon voyage" party at their residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quellet motored to Kelowna, B.C., for a short holiday recently visiting Mrs. Quellet's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Piff welcomed their chosen daughter Lauri-Ann nine months old. A sister for Susan Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kryskow flew to Flin Flon twice last week to see their son David, member of the Edmonton Oil Kings make the winning goal, that gave the Oil Kings the Western championship.

Congratulations to Elaine Himschoot and Annette Gervais who have been selected from Georges P. Vanier high school to join a group of Alberta exchange students who will tour the eastern provinces during the summer holidays.

Donna Martel and Ernest Dupuis were in a car accident last weekend in Edmonton. Miss Martel suffered a compound fracture to her right arm but her fiancé only received bad bruises.

Newcomers hear views of 4 politicians

Women of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club heard the views of four political speakers at their meeting last Wednesday, when guests were Dr. Norman Dolman, NDP and the three nominated candidates in St. Albert constituency. Keith Everitt, Social Credit, Ernie Jamison, Conservative and Robert Russell, Liberal. Each man was allotted 10 minutes speaking time to open the discussions, after which the four men answered questions for nearly an hour.

"The NDP had 1,400 votes in the last election in 1971," said Dr. Dolman, "and it is important to the coming election where these votes will go, since the party has not fielded a candidate." He felt that the trouble all over the world is largely due to frustration. "A feeling among the general public that you can't get through—nothing happens." "Young people feel what's the use, nobody cares," said Dr. Dolman. "We need a government that listens - and then will do something." On the subject of economies he said that one day education tax will come off property. "If the government pays for things that cost (education health and welfare) and gives away things that pay (our natural resources) then we are bound to have imbalance," concluded Dr. Dolman.

Noting that he has served as MLA for St. Albert since 1959 Mr. Everitt made some comparisons between Alberta and other provinces. "We have no sales tax," he said, "and the second lowest gasoline tax." Alberta was also the first province to return the province's 25 per cent of estate tax, premium from the federal government, back to the people. He talked on new legislation to bring in compulsory auto insurance on April 1, 1972, and the lowering of the age of majority to 18, and the liberalization of liquor laws, "because we listen to people and to young people." Mr. Everitt also spoke on senior citizens' lodges, auxiliary and active treatment hospitals, and mentioned the provincial government gave 36,000 to the arena and 200,000 to the hospital here.

Conservative Ernie Jamison felt that society had become obsessed with an idea that "the bigger something is the better it is." Speaking of the size and power of big business, big unions, big government, huge sprawling cities and even organized crime in the hands of enormous syndicates, Mr. Jamison felt that "It is time for Albertans, and indeed all Canadians to take a hard look at where we are going. In St. Albert, he said "we have a chance to keep our town to the size of community we want to live. I am unhappy with forecasts of 80-100 thousand, and so are many people I talk to. To prevent a concrete jungle from growing up to the south of us, I believe the provincial government should purchase green belt property and maintain it as open parkland" said Mr. Jamison. He spoke also of the serious lack of secondary industry and the resultant lack of jobs for young people, priority for the Sturgeon River Basin and the need for a "housecleaning" in the legislative house.

Robert Russell, Liberal, said he had served on both town council and the protestant school board for three years, and felt such experience was essential. "St. Albert is a unique town," he said, "and I would like to see more St. Alberts in the province. There is a problem in the tax structure and the type of hand-out grants from the provincial government. I was surprised at their action in cutting back the oil and gas royalty revenue to municipalities." Referring to the increase homeowners grant, Mr. Russell noted that young married couples and pensioners who are renting are not helped by this grant. He also said we should get rid of the tax on home improvements.

Questions from the audience were on greenbelts, parks, use of public land in St. Albert, American ownership of our oil and gas, nationalizing education standards, and costs of education. In most cases the questioners wished to hear each man's views.

Clean-up project is going well

The response of the people of St. Albert to last week's clean-up was excellent. The Breakfast Lions, scouts, cubs and parents involved collected a host of usable items for auction, as well as bottles and papers for disposal, from throughout the Grandin area.

This Saturday the same groups will be in Mission, Sturgeon and Braeside districts, doing door-to-door collection of these articles. Funds from the pop bottles and paper help finance scout and cub work and the unneeded but usable articles will be sold at a Lions auction May 29, with proceeds to support community service projects.

Citizens who were perhaps missed, or who have additional articles they wish to donate to the Breakfast Lions, may bring them to the Arena on Saturday morning, May 15, or phone 599-7126 for pickup.

Choir Concert

In Joe Rideout's excellent "Song of Praise."

Three children, Kathryn Kataris, John Kataris, and Kim Upright, will provide interesting effects with percussion instruments as orchestra bells, tambourine, finger cymbals, maracas, sand block, wood block and bongos. Another special feature will be several anthems for combined choirs.

Both choirs are under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Upright. The junior choir, established eight months ago, numbers some 30-odd singers. The children chose from the season's work their favorite anthems for presentation at this concert. Mrs. Margaret Crerar, organist for St. Matthew's Anglican congregation in St. Albert, is the accompanist for the junior choir.

The senior choir, a complement of 18 voices, recently competed successfully in the Kiwanis Music Festival, scoring 87 marks for second place, one behind the winners of the competition for church choirs. They will be joined by members of the St. Albert Singers for the Negro Spirituals, and will be assisted by the solo voices of Diane Nielsen, soprano, and Richard Leggett, tenor.

"Altogether Joyfully Sing" promises to be a joyous celebration in music for the whole family. No tickets are being sold, but an offering will be received. A social hour in the lower hall will follow the program, during which there will be an opportunity for children to pre-register for the fall music program of the church.

have some learning disability, Mr. Reid said, adding that many teachers are not trained to recognize the signs.

"It is time to give to the have-nots in school, instead of programs always for the haves," Mr. Reid pointed out there is at present no course at the U of A that prepares a teacher, or equips him to recognize this disorder.

The best preventive measure is a well baby clinic, Mr. Reid said. Here special tests can determine for certain if the condition exists, and a corrective education program may be started at once to permit the child to join the mainstream in school.

In concluding Mr. Reid said that government should change the education system. He recommends far more and better qualified teachers should be made available at the beginning of the education cycle, instead of concentrating highly qualified teachers at the secondary level.

The next meeting will be held on May 27. Further information is available from Audrey Graham, at 256-3476.

Council discusses sundry problems under new business

Councillor Kambouff raised the first item under new business at Council May 3 with the question "have we a bond on the Grandin Road extension, and will the people putting in the new piece restore the road to standard?" Mr. Maandag replied that is covered under the contractor's agreement and in discussion with the contractors they "appear to be agreeable to replacement of the asphalt surface."

Kambouff was also concerned with parking. "We say we agree with downtown development, then when a proposal comes in we discuss finding parking for the developer somewhere else, such as the arena area. Let's put a proper parking lot in shape and then charge accordingly."

The mayor observed that council has agreed to rent such a lot to the Bruin Inn, and Kambouff commented "we have heard nothing from the Bruin." To which Secretary O'Connell replied that he has had correspondence with the Bruin Inn and the situation is being investigated. With six lots involved, three are unfortunately under tax recovery, which is causing some delay.

Kambouff noted that council had told the latest developer they would charge him for parking, but had no suitable place to offer. The mayor stated that the plan for downtown parking was that town-owned land would be reserved, but the developer would have to develop it. Eventually council would accumulate money for paving. Councillor White wondered if other business people on Perron street would throw in a few dollars for parking. Councillor Hudson made a motion that council review parking policy in the downtown area. "Was the arrangement with Mr. Montpetit not our policy?" asked Councillor Lukay.

That is we charge the developer only for the cost of paving." The motion carried 6 - 0.

Coun. de Bruijn raised the matter of the access problem being faced by BACM and the Home Show because McKenney Avenue is not ready. A discussion followed on use of the hospital road, which is presently being used for access by contractors, and whether suitable temporary arrangements could be worked out. de Bruijn was of the opinion the road should never have been closed.

Coun. White was concerned about the Jasper Auto Parts premises and measures to control the unsightliness, and Kambouff suggested they should be made to build a fence. A motion by White that council ask the Inspector General to take action carried 6 - 0.

After taking an opening loss in their first exhibition game, the St. Albert Willowbrook Saints came up with exhibition wins over Northgate Shell Regals, 8 - 7 last Wednesday and 13 - 8 over Devon Kings last Sunday.

In Sunday's game the Saints scored 10 runs in the first five innings and were never in trouble. Rick Pugliese and Henry Hodge-son hit home runs for the Saints with Chester Cunningham having two doubles.

They share their experience, strength and hope and live one day at a time

By Hennie Stibbe

"My name is Mark, and I am an alcoholic." To an outsider this may not seem like an important statement, but everyone of the AA members present know what Mark has been through. The solemn promises, broken and unkept; the high hopes, "this time I'll really do it"; and bleak let-downs; the insecurity and loss of respect; the hopelessness and loneliness of the life of an alcoholic.

Mark addressed the St. Albert branch of Alcoholics Anonymous at a meeting, open to the public, last week.

AA is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others to recover from alcoholism. Membership to AA is open to people of all walks of life, from teen-agers to senior citizens, of all races, with all manner of formal religious affiliations and with none at all.

The fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous was founded in Akron, Ohio, in 1935. The founders, both chronic alcoholics, were an ex-stockbroker and a surgeon. Today there are more than 450,000 members and 15,000 groups in more than 90 countries. Women constitute about one-fifth of the membership. The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop drinking.

Members recognize that alcoholism is a progressive illness; spiritual and emotional (or mental) as well as physical. AA members will help any alcoholic who demonstrates his or her own interest in sobriety. AA does not solicit members or try to persuade anyone to join the movement. Those who are now members joined AA because they recognized that drinking had become a problem they could not control by themselves. Members concentrate on "not taking the first drink today." They stay sober one day at a time.

Mark, who is successfully employed and a respected member of the community, spends much of his spare time travelling around the Edmonton area, speaking to AA groups.

ILLNESS

"Alcoholism is medically defined as an illness," he said. "Self-inflicted, but, nevertheless, an illness." In simple terms, he would define an alcoholic as a man or woman who, when he or she drinks, causes trouble in his or her life. Trouble as far as family, job or human relationships is concerned.

Mark knows what he is talking about. He started drinking at 15 years of age and spent half of his life drunk until he came to AA. He has now maintained sobriety for 12 years.

JOINED AA

Before coming to grips with his problem, Mark tried all sorts of things. In those pre-AA days he did the "Geographic Cure" a lot. The idea of this "cure" is to "Let's move where nobody knows me." The family moved around for 10 years; that never kept Mark from drinking.

At age 30, it suddenly dawned on him. He was a nobody, going nowhere. He joined AA for the second time and stuck with it.

"Initially," he said, "it is a physical, mental and spiritual effort to stay away from that first drink. It requires a complete change of attitude to think sober."

Mark says he "is sober today by the grace of God and the help of many people who have come the same road." He adds "In order to keep my sobriety I must be willing to give away the knowledge I have received in gaining my sobriety."

Cleo's story is much like Mark's. She told the meeting she often thinks she "was born an alcoholic." She, too, started drinking at a very early age. She said she was rebellious as a youngster, and immature as an adult. "After years of heavy drinking I one day asked myself, who am I, where am I going and what am I on this earth for?" she said. Cleo joined AA and there she found her identity. "I used to tell myself I had to drink to put up with my husband. But, really, I started drinking long before I ever met him." Liz was the other speaker at last Wednesday's meeting. She is a member of Al-Anon.

Al-Anon is not affiliated with AA. It is a separate fellowship that tries to meet and alleviate the problems of approximately 20 to 30 million people who are affected by living with alcoholics. It recognizes that alcoholism is a family disease, which impairs the mental and physical health of its members.

Liz said she was desperate and did not know where to turn or what to do next, when she joined Al-Anon. There she learned to accept her spouse for what he is. "An attacker needs a victim and a victim needs to be attacked," she said. "Al-Anon makes you look at things and see them the way they are. It helped me find happiness for myself and my children." Liz added "a change in the mother's attitude makes such a great difference to the family." Serenity has returned to Liz's family and she is grateful to Al-Anon for helping her achieve this.

AL-ANON

In St. Albert, AA and Al-Anon meet every Wednesday in separate rooms of the Legion Hall at 8:30 p.m. AA is listed in the telephone directory and information may be obtained from the clergy, medical profession or police officials who are familiar with the program.

Apartment parking spark discussion at Council

The matter of parking requirements for Selective Investment's apartment development, (off Sturgeon Road, down from Bishop Street) came under discussion at the May 3 meeting of St. Albert Council. Council had asked for 175 per cent for parking. Planner Woodroffe felt that this was an outstanding plan, with lots of free area and 150 per cent would be sufficient. (54 stalls for 36 suites).

"What is the new zoning policy recommending - 175 per cent?" asked Coun. Lukay. "No," said Mayor Gibbon, "150 per cent for apartments." "Haven't all our discussions indicated that 150 per cent is not sufficient?" asked Coun. White. Coun. de Bruijn asked what guarantee do we have for this open area, and was told by Mr. Vance, developer, that the Central Mortgage and Housing approval is condition upon it, with $9,000 for landscaping. "There is no guarantee," said de Bruijn "that what is planned will actually go through, I haven't that much faith in CMHA."

Mr. Vance said "we would have no objection to adding this to the bonding agreement." "Let's have it then," said Russell. The mayor inquired whether this could in fact be done, and engineer Maandag stated "If the bond is set sufficiently high."

One hundred and fifty per cent is not adequate for apartments," said de Bruijn.

"We have many two-car families, and what about visitors. I can't see moving back from 175 per cent," Coun. White would not like to see moving back to 150 per cent either. "I would hate to see parking on Sturgeon Road" he said. "It is a matter of physical space" said Mr. Vance, and de Bruijn asked if he had considered sub-surface parking. "The cost of a minimum of $900 per stall is prohibitive," said Mr. Vance.

Coun. Hudson moved the Selective Investments be allowed to proceed with 150 per cent parking as recommended by the town planner. The motion lost, with Lukay, Kambourff, de Bruijn and White opposed.

"A building worth $450,000 now cannot be built, and I would like some guidance from council as to alternatives that might work," said Mr. Vance. "How wide is the road allowance," asked de Bruijn. "There is no room to get on it - it slopes away very steeply," replied Mr. Vance.

"Could you look at the plan again and come back and see us?" asked Russell. "We could use eight foot stalls, rather than eight and a half, which would provide two, or at the most three extra. Total stalls at the moment are 54 for 36 suites," said Mr. Vance. This concluded the discussions and Russell left the meeting at this time.

With regard to the walkway closing on Gresham, council was advised that a meeting between the mayor and the minister of highways has been arranged for May 20.

It was stated that at the present time the minimum allowed are parcels of three acres of land. The question of mobile homes on deeded lots was also discussed.
